

AVIATORS OF ARMY ANXIOUS TO TRY FLIGHT TO AUGUSTA

Believe Trip Would Convince Enemies of Advantages in War.

While the Signal Corps refused to permit the army aviators at College Park to fly to Augusta, Ga., for their encampment last winter, some of the fliers are willing to undertake the task this winter, hoping, if granted the permission, to convince the enemies of aviation in the United States army that the aeroplane is good for long-distance flying.

It is estimated that the air-line course from College Park, Md., to Augusta, Ga., is an even 635 miles. It is believed the army aviators easily could fly this distance in two days without putting themselves to a great strain or their machines either. As it is admitted by aeronautical experts that the aeroplane must be capable of making long trips across the country if it ever expects to hold its place in the military world, the flight to Augusta would be a splendid test for the army men.

The task of taking down and packing the planes now at College Park and reassembling them again at the winter headquarters is one of the mechanics, enlisted men, and officers alike.

The experience of a cross-country flight of this distance would be of great value to the army aviators. Of course, they realize that they take a chance of smashups in rough country when landing, but they believe with straight, ordinary flying the distance can be covered without any great amount of trouble.

The flying squadron will be split into two divisions this winter. The land machines go to Augusta and the hydro-aeroplanes to San Diego, Cal.

Capt. Charles De Forest Chandler will be in charge of the Augusta squadron and Lieut. Harold Geiger, the hydro-fliers at San Diego.

Lieut. Thomas De Witt Milling, and Lieut. Henry H. Arnold, now at Fort Riley, where they will this week attempt to direct the practice fire of the artillery there from their planes, are willing to attempt a cross-country trip to Augusta. Lieut. Roy C. Kirtland also would attempt the trip if given permission. Captain Chandler, commanding officer of the school, and one of its steadiest fliers, would welcome the opportunity to show to the military authorities of this country that the army aviators are capable of an endurance test.

The officers who are expected to go to Augusta, Ga., are Captain Chandler, Capt. Frederick Hennessy, Lieut. Henry H. Arnold, Lieut. Thomas De Witt Milling, Lieut. Harry Graham, and Lieut. Loren H. Call, and Lieut. E. L. Milling, who are expected to join the aviators within the next few days.

Those who probably will go to San Diego, are Lieut. Harold Geiger, Lieut. Lewis E. Goodier, Jr., Lieut. Joseph D. Park, and Lieut. Lewis H. Breton. They will carry two hydro-aeroplanes and two land machines. Then planes will be shipped to Augusta.

Seeks to Demonstrate Deperdussen Monoplane For Use of Government

W. E. Boughton, representing the St. Louis Aeroplane Company, of New York, has established headquarters at College Park, Md., and expects soon to make arrangements to bring a Deperdussen monoplane here to demonstrate to the Government. The Deperdussen is the kind of machine in which Jules Verne flew 100 miles an hour at Chicago a month ago, winning the Gordon-Bennett cup race.

The New York company handles the Deperdussen, Caudron and Blériot monoplanes, and hopes to persuade the Government to give one of these foreign monoplanes a chance to show what it can do in military aviation.

ENGINE OF AVIATOR ENDS LONG FLIGHT

Kabitzke Forced to Descend at College Park After Being Up More Than Hour and Half.

William Kabitzke, the Wright flier, had another stroke of bad luck at College Park yesterday afternoon. Kabitzke, in a new Wright biplane, was up on a two-hour endurance test, but had engine trouble after being up one hour and thirty-seven minutes and was forced to come down. On Friday afternoon Kabitzke was up one hour and thirty-eight minutes and had to come down also because of engine trouble. He will go over his motor tomorrow and try it again.

As several Wright machines are soon to be ordered by the Signal Corps it is probable that Kabitzke will go to Augusta, Ga., this winter with the army aviators, where he will be busy trying out new machines.

GRAND LODGE WILL VISIT ANACOSTIA

Masons Complete Plans for Reception to Officials Tomorrow Night—New Fire Alarm System Installed at Government Hospital.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.

ANACOSTIA, D. C., OCT. 19.—The grand lodge in their annual visitation, Masonic Hall, where the ceremonies will take place, will be elaborately decorated, and Milton J. Phillips, the chairman of the committee of arrangements, has prepared a program for the evening. A Masonic quartet, composed of Milton J. Phillips, Arthur Simpson, William Seantlebury, and Samuel Pumphrey, will sing. The Rev. W. G. Davenport, of the Emmanuel Protestant Episcopal Church, will deliver an address, and E. C. Snyder, a Washington Mason, will speak. Ben W. Murch, grand master, and his entire staff will be in attendance. Charles A. Stevens will be another singer.

Miss Eleanor Hortal, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Louis Hortal, of Baltimore, and Albert Burns, a young business man of the same city, were married in Anacostia yesterday. The young couple have hosts of friends in their home city, but they preferred to have the marriage ceremony take place without display. They were accompanied to Anacostia by Franklin Hortal, brother of the bride, as the best man. Mrs. R. W. Griffin, wife of the pastor of the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church, attended the bride, who was attired in a traveling suit of dark blue material and wore a picture hat. After the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. Mr. Griffin in the church parsonage, the young couple

FAVOR WAREHOUSE FOR DISTRICT USE

Investigators Believe It Would Work Economy in Purchase of Supplies.

In accordance with the recommendations of Congressman W. C. Redfield, chairman of the sub-committee of the House District Committee which is investigating the District's method of the purchase and distribution of supplies, and M. C. Hargrove, purchasing officer of the Commissioners, it is understood, have included in their estimates an appropriation of $35,000 for the erection of a municipal storage and warehouse. Competition in furnishing supplies to the District is restricted, officials say, by the inability of the Government to handle goods in large lots. With suitable storage facilities, the District will be enabled to ask for bids for supplies in greater quantities, thereby extending the field to manufacturers, and effecting, it is declared, an annual saving of from five to ten per cent in expenditures.

Robs Girl, Escapes.

No trace has been found by the police of the colored man who snatched a $100 bill from the hand of 34-year-old Corcoran last night at the corner of Thirty-first and M streets northwest. The little girl, who is thirteen, was returning home when the thief, coming up behind her, snatched the money and ran.

went to Washington for a honeymoon. They will return to Baltimore to reside. The bride is the daughter of a Methodist pastor in that city. They made their friends aware of their plans for a quiet wedding before coming to Anacostia.

Quicker transmission of fire alarm signals is aimed at in the installation of an electrical bell-ringing system at the Government Hospital for the Insane. Instead of the headquarters of the fire-fighting force being dependent upon the telephone for fire calls, the big bell in the tower of the fire engine house will be sounded through the central telephone office of the asylum upon the pressing of a button.

The system was tried out on Friday with good results, the firemen going through a drill on the sounding of an alarm.

Rally day exercises today in the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church, the Rev. Samuel W. Griffin, pastor, showed increased interest in the different departments of church work. The Sunday school department, represented by Superintendent Arthur B. Sult, had a special part in the program.

Information has been received here of the resignation from the United States army of Capt. Robert L. Richards, who, up to a comparatively short time ago, had been engaged at the Government Hospital for the Insane in observation of cases of mental disease for the War Department with the view of exercising a more rigid supervision over these matters in the field. Dr. Richards was transferred to the Presidio Hospital, Cal., where he resigned. He has accepted a position as medical superintendent of the Mendocino State Hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. William Hough, who were in camp with a party of friends near Front Royal, Va., are spending the remainder of their vacation from the government hospital at Waterford, Va., Dr. Hough's old home.

The Epworth League of the Congress Heights Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a missionary rally tonight. Miss Florence Gude will have charge of a program, which includes an address by Thaddeus Duval. Other speakers will discuss the mission.

A concert is being arranged for Thanksgiving night by Daniel C. Smithson, choir leader in the Anacostia M. E. Church, to be participated in by local talent.
